

This row features large illustrations for handwriting practice. On the left, a mole is shown with its legs sticking out of a hole in the ground. Above it is a white cloud. In the center, a large, solid black letter 'E' is shown with dashed arrows indicating the stroke order: a vertical line down, followed by three horizontal lines from left to right. To its right is a dashed outline of the letter 'E' with three green stars marking the starting points for each stroke. On the right side of the row, there is a sun partially hidden behind a white cloud and a tuft of green grass. The background is divided into three horizontal bands: light blue at the top, light green in the middle, and light brown at the bottom.
